

Never Again

I didn't count on her for love but now it isn't quite the same she's the one I'm leaning on

she loves me
and she's the one I'm gonna hold
and I'll never be quite the same

I wanted to be free from love and keep the world inside myself she showed me things I need to know she brought me joy and helped me grow

and she's the one I'm gonna hold

love doesn't come for those who hide it only is for those who share she wanted to be free from me she took the heart from inside me

she loved me and she's the one I should've held
now I'll never be quite the same
